

GRADE SIX....WEEKLY OVERVIEW

March 27 - March 31, 2017

Week 29

"Don't let what you can't do stop you from doing what you can do."
- John Wooden

SCIENCE: You will also be gathering information about chemical and physical properties of mass in preparation for several labs later in the week. Be watching your landfills to see what changes are taking place in these final weeks. After planting our seedlings, the big job for the next few weeks will be to make sure the seeds are kept damp!

LANGUAGE ARTS: You will have a reading passage (Stitches in Time) and questions to answer which will be given to you Monday and is due Wednesday. We'll wrap up our close reading of the article 'Black Sunday' and review our Central Ideas and Details assignment. We'll be working with some figurative language (similes, metaphors and personification) in Ray Bradbury's short story, 'The Veldt' and you'll be given a review packet to complete and hand in Thursday. Your scored reading responses will be given to you by the end of the week.

MATH: This week you will be looking at some intriguing problems involving ratio and rate. Be prepared to think carefully about how relationships between two quantities can change. Towards the end of the week we will be investigating percentages which are a specific type of rate that compares something to 100. For homework this week you will have a skill sheet due Thursday and quiz corrections due Friday. You may have some additional classwork to take home if it is not completed in class.

SOCIAL STUDIES: Today you'll find out what your Enterprise City jobs are and will jump right into the work of your business! You will be learning about some major economic concepts such as scarcity and abundance as well as supply and demand. These concepts are essential information for making yourselves successful working professionals!

ESPAÑOL: "El amor es ciego." (Love is blind.)

Clase #1: DUE - Verbo IR Practice Quiz. Actividades Mixtas.

Clase #2: Pronunciation Bee. World Languages Comparison.

Clase #3: Verbo IR Quiz
